Sowing.

Are we nowing the seeds of kindness? They shall blossom bright ere long ; Are we sowing the seeds of discord?

They shall ripen into wrong. Are we sowing seeds of honor? They shall bring forth golden grain; Are we sowing seeds of faisehood? We shall yet reap bitter pain. Whatspe'er our sowing be, Reaping, we its fruits shall see.

We can nover be too enreful What the seeds our hands shall sow; Love from love is sure to ripen, Hate from hate is sure to grow Seeds of good or ill we scatter Heallersly along our way; But a glad or grievous fruitage Waits us at the harvest day.

Whatsoe'er our sowing be, Resping, we its fruits shall sec .- Sciected. ew York Correspondence-No. 37.

hina, is less than half the circle of the e. The Old World, in other words, lies comtogether. The completion of the Suez unifies it, establishes its quickest channels ommunication within itself. Our Pacific way affords no longer the shortest route from and to China. Nor can the construction of anal through the Isthmus of Darien attract considerable portion of the European-Asiatic e. The great through route is definitely ted as I have described. The Suez Canal we America off from the centre of the world. Pacific Railroad could not prevent this fate; Darien Canal will not remedy it. The Suez al places both England and Eastern North erica where they were before the African
